Funko POP Historical Figure Sets (24)

Description: You will be creating THREE Funko POP Historical Figures based on the people you've reviewed throughout studying World History.

Directions:

1. Choose one historical person from Periods 1-2 (Prehistory-600CE), one historical person from Period 3-4 (600-1750), and one historical person from Period 5-6 (1750CE-Modern) who you find interesting and draw their Funko Pop figure using the template on the next page. One of the people should originate from an area other than Europe, United States, or China.
2. In the section titled "Character Name," write the historical person's name.
3. In the section titled "Series" label the empire, philosophy, religious movements, group etc. that is appropriate for the person you chose.
4. In the section titled "Character Biography" create a story-style biography/background for your character using factual information. Rely more on significant accomplishments of your person.
 - a. You should be doing research on this person from either your textbook or other reliable sources
 - b. You will need to put your MLA works cited information on the back of the handout. One source minimum per figure. NO WIKIPEDIA or BAIDU!
5. In the section titled "Collect Them All," identify two other people who would also fit with your "Series" label. Draw them and write their names underneath.

Grading:

- This should be a colorful activity. Have fun, but also be factual and cite sources
- Try to avoid using the same people as other students. If you're copying or "sharing" information, I will know and everyone involved will get a zero on this assignment
- Points are taken off if information is incorrect, nonsensical, or the work is sloppy
 - o If you're not certain of any of these items, ASK BEFORE SUBMITTING!
