AP World History Creating Stimulus-Based Question

Directions: You and a partner will be making stimulus-based multiple-choice questions to reflect the historical analysis skills you have learned and to help you understand the complexity of these assessments

1. You and your partner will find and choose ONE historical source
 - a. Your group needs to find either a primary or secondary source from Period 4-6
 - b. Sources can be passages, pictures, charts, or maps
 - c. Sources must include citation
2. You must create two multiple-choice questions
 - a. Each multiple-choice question should reflect an analysis of the source
 - b. Each question needs to have four answer choices
 - i. There needs to be an answer that is most correct, another second best option but isn't correct based on information from the document, and two other responses that are reasonable, but incorrect
 1. For each multiple-choice option, you must write a proof of why the answer is correct or incorrect, explaining them further
 - ii. All options MUST BE REASONABLE
 - c. Questions and responses should be original work (not previous AP questions nor copied from elsewhere)
3. One printed copy of the stimulus-based questions needs to be provided along with a digital copy submitted to TurnItIn.com
